2019 PORTO | MAR.31 - APR.5

1. Praça de Gomes Teixeira

Edifício da Reitoria / Rectory Building

This monument lies in the heart of the historic centre, an urban area with a strong medieval imprint, and is surrounded by remarkable buildings. Constructed and remodelled over more than one century. The space belonged to the “Colégio dos Meninos Órfãos” (College of Orphaned Children), which remained there until late 19th century. In 1911, with the founding of the University of Porto, this building housed the Rectorate, the Faculty of Sciences, with its museums and laboratories, and an Engineering School. This monument is currently home of the Rectorate of the U.Porto and the Natural History and Science Museum of the University of Porto.

2. Rua das Carmelitas

Church of Ordem Terceira de Nossa Senhora do Carmo

This Church was built in the second half of the eighteenth century. Due to its architecture and interior carvings, it is considered to be one of the most remarkable buildings of Porto, during its rococo phase. In 1912, its lateral façade was covered with tiles. The drawings on those tiles were designed by Silvestre Silvestri, representing the figurative compositions alluding to the cult of Nossa Senhora (Our Lady). Later on, the Building was designated as a national monument.

3. Praça de Carlos Alberto

Palacete dos viscondes de Balsemão / Palace of the Viscounts of Balsemão

Sent to be constructed by the Alvo Brandão Perestrello Godinho family, who were heirs to the Viscounts of Basemão, it was remodelled in the nineteenth century, by the Counts of Trinidad, and welcomed in 1849 the exiled King of Sardenha and Piemonte, Carlos Alberto de Sabóia. Property of the Local Council of Porto since 1959, temporary exhibitions have been arranged as well as areas, where different events can be held.

Monumento aos Soldados Mortos na I Guerra Mundial / First World War Memorial

The monument was erected in Carlos Alberto Square, in memory of the soldiers who died in the I World War. It stands in the middle of a triangle, decorated with flowerbeds. Its construction began in 1927 and was inaugurated on 9th April the following year. Completed by Architect Manuel Marques and sculptor Henrique Moreira, the base of the monument is cross-shaped, and consists of a squared column decorated with shields.

4. Praça do General Humberto Delgado

Câmara Municipal do Porto / City Hall

The project for the construction of the current building of the City Hall of Porto, integrated in the plan of expansion of the civic center of the city, elaborated by English architect Barry Parker, was approved in 1916. This plan conferred to the city center with the current configuration, connecting Liberdade Square, Aliados Avenue e and General Humberto Delgado Square. The building designed by Arch. Correia da Silva, began to be built in 1920. However, after numerous interruptions and changes to the initial project, introduced by Architect Carlos Ramos, the works were only resumed in 1947, being completed 8 years later.

6. Rua de Mouzinho da Silveira / Mouzinho da Silveira street

The opening of Rua Mouzinho da Silveira, which was intended as a connection between the high and low areas of the city (creating a new hub for the distribution of traffic and the movement of goods), was financed by Wine Levy in 1872. It is the road that links S. Bento station to the riverside area Ribeira, currently the target of recovery works on houses which run along it and where varied commerce can be found. Part of the Urban Wine Route.

7. Rua de Ferreira Borges

Instituto dos Vinhos do Douro e do Porto / Douro and Port Wines Institute

The building where the IVDP is settled was built in 1843 to house Banco Comercial do Porto, in neo-classical style, and it was bought by the IVDP in 1933. IVDP's visitor centre offers a shop which sells wines, a tasting room and a tour that takes visitors through the certification process for Port and Douro wines. Included in the Urban Wine Route.

8. Rua da Reboleira

Find the cube on Ribeira.

9. Rua Nova da Alfândega

Alfândega – Museu dos Transportes e Comunicações, Centro de Congressos e Exposições / Customs House and Transport & Communications Museum

The “Alfândega”, is a neoclassical building constructed during the 19th century, according to a project carried out by engineer Jean F. G. Colson. It has 2 façades, one facing the Douro river and one facing the city. In 1987, it was decided to house the future Museum of Transport and Communications, in the building belonging to the Association with the same name. The Association for the Transport and Communications Museum also manages a Congress Centre, spread across various areas in the Building of Alfândega Nova do Porto.
